Chairman's Message

Some few days ago I was reading the daily paper, and I was struck by two items in the same edition.

The first one dealt with the Presidential elections in the United States which were being fought out at the time. This gave an account of the vigorous campaigning going on on both sides, with protagonists equally as enthusiastic and equally confident of victory. The report was a lengthy one, and gave the fullest possible details of all the facts pertaining to the campaign.

The other item was a much smaller one, and concerned events on the opposite side of the Iron Curtain. It dealt briefly with a rumour that the Russian Premier had been displaced from office by some kind of coup or other. There was nothing official, and the item stated that speculation was rife, firstly, as to whether the rumour was true and, secondly, if such were the case, who the successor to Krushchev was to be.

Whether the last item was only a rumour or was to prove true is beside the point. But these items, contrasting, as I felt they did, the philosophies of the democratic and totalitarian ways of life, made me think how lucky we are to live in a democracy; how lucky we are to be able to exercise the personal right to vote for those whom we think should govern our country, and to be able to have that election carried on in the healthy light of national publicity and in view of the whole world.

Surely this is a fortunate birthright for which we can all be truly thankful.

CLUB NEWS & VIEWS

GEOFF EASTMENT RETURNS FROM OVERSEAS

It was a pleasure to see Committeeman Geoff Eastment back in the Club after his extended trip overseas. Geoff was looking hale and hearty, and said he had enjoyed the trip very much. While away he saw the Olympic Games and, though very much impressed with them, said that the general opinion of those who had seen both was that they were not half so well organized, nor did they run so smoothly as the Melbourne Games. With Geoff on the trip was his wife, Rhonda, and Norm and Mrs. Clark. One of the highlights of the trip as far as Geoff was concerned was that he got in a round of golf at the world-famous St. Andrew's course, and broke the 100. He also visited Lord's, where he saw the second test between England and South Africa. Geoff tells us that he ran into fellow Clubmember Jim Russell while in Rome. Jim was there reporting the Games.

Like so many Australians who depart our shores for an overseas visit, Geoff says the two most exciting days of the trip were when they passed through the Heads on the way out, and when they passed through them again to come home.

Nice to see you back, Geoff. All members are pleased, indeed, to know you and Rhonda had such a pleasant tour.

o o o

BILL MACKIE IN SYDNEY

It was a pleasure to see Bill Mackie down from Newcastle for a few days last month. Bill, as most members know, is a Committeeman of Newcastle Tattersall's and, at his hands, many of our members have enjoyed help and hospitality when visiting Bill's home town.

Nice to see you, Bill, and we hope it won't be too long before we see you again.

o o o

MIKE NIMENSKI'S DAUGHTER WEDS

In the time-honoured manner, as becomes the father of the bride, member Mike Nimenski was a busy man last month arranging the wedding of his daughter Judith to Lionel Morris. The wedding reception was held at the Bondi Rex, and many of our Club members, including Ray Walder and Bill Scott, Alan Freedman and George and Charles Cohen, were present. At the time of writing the young couple were heading north on a travelling honeymoon, and Mike was recovering somewhat from the festivities.

MISSING FROM RAILS

Most punters, in the habit of visiting our courses regularly, missed the sight of popular bookmaker Len Burke on his stand during last month. The reason for Len's absence from his usual place of business was due to an attack of hepatitis, which, at the time of writing, had kept him to his bed for three weeks. All Len's friends were very sorry indeed to hear of his illness, but the last word your Editor received was that Len, who had chosen to weather out his illness at home rather than in hospital, was improving rapidly, and would be round and about in the very near future. All wish you a speedy recovery, Len, and hope to see you back on the old stand at least by the time this paragraph appears in print.

WALTER McEVILLY ON VISIT

Residential visitor to the Club last month was Walter McEvilly. Walter, as most of our senior members know, has been a member of Tattersall's since 1928. At present he hails from Robertson, where he has a country property, and was down on a few days' visit to the metropolis.

Unfortunately, Walter's visits to the Club are not as frequent as they used to be, for he has had three protracted stays in hospital over the last year for a serious complaint, but we are very happy indeed to report that the treatment he is now undergoing is proving most successful, and Walter is getting along nicely.

Many members will remember Walter as a colourful figure in boxing and wrestling circles in the 1920's. At that time he was adviser to the famous Walter Miller, who became middleweight wrestling champion of the world.

It was a pleasure to see you in the Club, Walter. All members hope you enjoy a complete recovery from your illness, and also to see you more often in the Club in future.

o o o

"SELLEN'S CORNER"

So renowned has Committeeman Bill Sellen's sojourns to the wide open spaces become that it was bound to happen sooner or later.

One property owner — his name, incidentally, Bill isn't even sure of — has become so used to seeing Bill "bed down" in his caravan in a secluded and delightful vale at Somerset Park on the Colo River, that he has promised to put up a sign reading "Sellen's Corner" on the spot. In view of this, we have received the suggestion that a miniature of the sign be made and planted in a certain corner on the first floor, which is equally deserving of the title.

CHISHOLM SMITH'S RELUCTANT VISIT

Popular member Chisholm Smith, who hails from Inverell, is usually overjoyed, to say the least, at the prospect of a visit to our fair city. Unfortunately, his last sojourn here was a reluctant one, for its purpose was for Chisholm to spend five weeks in Gloucester House Hospital undergoing an operation. However, when we saw him he had completely recovered, and was spending some of his convalescence meeting old friends in the Club. His one complaint about them, he wisecracked, was that they hadn't sent him a wreath while he was in Gloucester House. In the same vein, he indicated that the only serious hurt he suffered from the whole visit to Sydney was financial.

Chisholm has been a member of Tattersall's since 1930, and his property, "Argyle," at Inverell, is well known to many Clubmember visitors to that part of the world. He is a Vice-President of the Diggers' Racing Club in the North, and also a Committeeman of the North and North-west Racing Association. With a lot of local pride in his district, he has named his current racehorse Verellin, a name which contains all the letters in his local town. Verellin, incidentally, is a very creditable performer in the Northern Districts.

Good luck, Chisholm, we hope your next visit to Sydney will be for a happier reason.

WRONG BOTTLE

Seems that one of our Club members hailing from Cronulla, and just having come home from a pleasant frisk in the surf, combed generous quantities of what he took to be ordinary hair cream through his hair to set it back into place after its dousing in salt water. Turns out that the bottle didn't contain ordinary hair cream at all, but the member's wife's blue rinse, instead. Now the gent in question is hurriedly explaining to everyone he meets how the situation arose, in case they mistake his motives. Committeeman Claude Moore's crack of the month in connection with the incident is to the effect that he got stung on the head by a blue bottle.

o o o

TOM POWELL RETIRES

The turf lost a spectacular and popular bookmaker last month when well-known Tom Powell hung up his bag and retired from the bookmaking business. Tom has been known for many years as a prominent fielder and, during his career, has well earned the friendship and the respect of many. Although now missing from the bookmaking circles, Tom will not be completely dissociated from the sport in which he has made his mark. An owner, with some sound success to his credit, Tom will undoubtedly continue in this role.

All your friends are sorry to see you go from active bookmaking, Tom, but wish you a happy "retirement," and good luck for the future years.

BON EASTMENT IN HOSPITAL

Those members who don't already know will be sorry to hear that Bon Eastment is in hospital. Unfortunately, Bon suffered a breakdown brought on by overwork and strain. Bon was a pretty sick boy for the first couple of weeks of his illness, but we are glad to report that, at the time of writing, he was feeling considerably better, and able to crack his usual joke with his visitors. Bon was in St. Anne's private hospital at Killara, where he expects to spend a fairly long convalescence. However, he has a T.V. set in his room, so was able to see the Melbourne Cup. He expects to be a real "Western" fan by the time he gets out.

Sorry to hear of your illness, Bon, but hope to see you back in the Club again soon, as hale and hearty as ever.

o o o

CLUB MEMBER SWAMPED

We were sorry to read in the daily press the other day that Club member and Olympic single kayak representative, Allan Livingstone, was swamped while crossing Sydney Harbour in a 36-foot, four-man kayak. It appears that Allan and his three companions were paddling from Walsh Bay to The Spit to save haulage charges when the seas opposite the Heads became too much for the craft, and she half filled with water.

Said Allan ruefully: "Next time I transport the kayak I will hire a semi-trailer."

Well, it might save some trouble, Allan, but it won't be half so interesting.

CERAMIC EXPERT FROM U.S.

One of Club member Bill Davies' guests in the Club last month was Owen H. Cross, Vice-President of the well-known Swindell-Dressler Corporation, from Pittsburgh in America. Owen is an acknowledged expert in the field of brickmaking and ceramics, and was here on both business and pleasure. Coming from a country where, in many areas, almost every house is of timber construction, he said he was most impressed, and, from a business point of view, highly delighted to see an almost endless vista of brick houses when he got off the plane at Mascot. A very hearty welcome to our country and our Club, Owen. We hope we will see you on many occasions before you return to the United States.

BELATED CONGRATULATIONS

So many of our Club members seem to do well in the "Sydney Morning Herald" garden competition that hardly a year goes by that we don't miss one or two. This year is no different and, since our last issue, we have had news that Victor Jennings won first prize in the Eastern Zone and second prize in the General Section for a formed garden with no paid labour. So, better late than never, we hope, Vic, hearty congratulations on your victories.

A rather amusing sequel to Vic's win occurred when, due to a curious mix-up, his wife's photo appeared in the paper under another name, and under the name of his wife appeared a photo of another lady. His friends are now suggesting that he has been grossly unfair to other competitors, as he now has two wives to help him in the garden.

VISITOR FROM AUCKLAND

A very good friend and old acquaintance of Committeeman George Chiene, Monty Shaw, who hails from Auckland, New Zealand, was in the Club last month. Monty, who, many of our older members will recall, was a member of Tattersall's for many years, and won the Peter Moore Gold Cup in 1936. One of Monty's favourite anecdotes concerns, on his own admission, how he lost an excellent opportunity of backing a 200/- Melbourne Cup winner. He was visiting the course with George Chiene in the year when Old Rowley won, and George, fully confident of the winner's chances, was taking £1,000 to £5 wherever he could get it. He urged Monty to do likewise. However, Monty says he was far too wise to back such a roughly, and didn't put a penny on it. He says he has been kicking himself ever since.

Monty, however, is at present enjoying a six weeks' Australian tour, which will, naturally enough take in the Melbourne Cup. He hopes to remedy the position this time.

DICK DOWLING AND HARRY PILL ENTERTAIN

It is always a pleasure to see members taking full advantage of the facilities offered by the Club, and last month Dick Dowling and Harry Pill were two who did. We noticed them entertaining a large party of company officials prior to a theatre party. Their visitors came from most States of Australia, and expressed their satisfaction at our dining room food and service.

ADRIAN QUIST RETURNS

It was nice to see Adrian Quist back in the Club again after his recent overseas tour, where he had a very successful trip as Manager of the Australian Tennis Team.

Adrian says that this year's Davis Cup Tie, to be held in Sydney in December, promises to be one of the most closely fought battles for many a year. And if anyone should know, it would be Adrian.

Incidentally, another worker for the good of tennis who we see around the Club regularly is Albert MacPherson. Albert is a prominent figure in the tennis world, and is at present particularly busy with much of the behind-the-scenes organisation necessary for the preparation of this year's Davis Cup.

JOE RICH IN HOSPITAL

We were sorry to hear that Joe Rich went into hospital late in October for a minor operation, but, when last sighted, Joe was in St. Luke's, and said his stay wasn't so bad at all, for A.J.C. Committeeman Frank Thompson, who, incidentally, members will recall had an accident the day before Sam Hordern was killed, was on the next floor, and Joe and he spent a great deal of time visiting one another. Both were in during Melbourne Cup time and, though they made every effort, were unable to pick the winner.

o o o

SOL GOLDHILL GOING STRONG

It was a real pleasure to see Sol Goldhill, our oldest (in length of membership) member in the Club the other day, looking as hale and hearty as ever. Sol enjoys life thoroughly, and is a Club regular whom it is always a pleasure to see about.

Man of the Month

"MANNY" LYONS

Patriarch of fielders and doyen of owners, Emanuel, or "Manny" as he is affectionately known by his army of friends, Lyons spent 48 years of his life as a bookmaker, and has owned 72 horses in his time. In fact, his horses have won on every course in Victoria, a distinction which has not been equalled by any other owner, to the best of our knowledge. Today, an acknowledged expert on the turf whose advice is sought by many, Manny can look back on a very colourful life, and forward to the continuing respect and affection of the racing community.

Manny Lyons was born in England 75 years ago, one of a neatly balanced family of four boys and four girls. His father was a butcher whose business was in Petticoat Lane, but, fortunately for us here in Australia, Manny was to see little of this famous London place of business, for he came to this country at the age of two years.

His family settled in Melbourne, and Manny's short educational career was carried out in that city. Like members of so many families of that era, Manny was not destined for a long and expensive education; he left school before he was 14, and took his first job in the pay of an ecclesiastical retailer and manufacturer, where he was to learn the sculpturing trade.

It is a tribute to his early native ability that, after twelve months at his trade, he was entrusted with the painting of the statues of St. Paul and Peter which stood in the corridor of St. Patrick's Cathedral in Melbourne.

However, Manny's destiny was to lie in other directions, and soon after that he left his job and took another as a chair-canner, a thriving trade in those times. Here he earned the princely sum of 7/6 a week.

But this, in turn, was not to hold him long and, at the age of 16, he went to work for his father, who was by that time established in the fruit and vegetable business at the city markets. Again demonstrating his ability to do well at anything he took on, in a short time he was acknowledged as the fastest fruit packer in Australia, and was so adept that people used to come and stand around in groups just to watch him in action.

Manny always had a deep affection and loyalty to his mother, and the five shillings a week he earned with his father enabled him to take only a small sum home to her each week. Thinking on this, Manny one day asked his father to buy him a large basket. With this as his initial equipment, he started a fruit run and, in the matter of weeks, was making a nett profit of some 7/6 a day, all of which went to his mother except a shilling. As Manny explains, this was plenty of pocket money for a young man in those days.

Three years after the turn of the century, Manny decided to come to Sydney on a visit, and it was as a result of this that he got into the bookmaking business.

While here he visited Joe Lemon, who one day suggested that Manny take on fielding. After some discussion, Manny agreed, and Joe gave him thirty sovereigns to get started. From that time on Manny never looked back. He subsequently went back to Melbourne and, on his first day at Ascot, he won £300—a large sum at that time.

However, Manny's bookmaking career was not all a bed of roses. He went broke on one or two occasions, but he was always able to pay. The reason for this, explains Manny, was because the more broke he was the more prosperous he tried to look, and was so able to get credit. Many was the expensive suit Manny got on the nod in the tough days so that he could impress people with his substance.

Manny's career as an owner began when he was 30. He bought his first horse then, and since has owned 72.

According to Manny, his best horse was Tale Teller. This was by Magpie out of Persuasion and, at Moorefield, beat a famous horse of the era, Art, by 15 lengths. Art won the Moonee Valley Cup immediately after.

The famous Jimmy Pike rode Tale Teller the day it beat Art, and said that it was one of the best horses he had ever ridden or ever hoped to ride. Unfortunately for Manny, Tale Teller's career was to be short lived, for he developed a blood disease, and was of no further use after that.

Incidentally, Committeeman Alf Collins helped Manny select this most appropriate name for his horse.

Other famous horses that Manny owned in the old days were Rosbercon, with which he won the Aspendale and Bendigo Cups; Sunburst, who won at Caulfield; Sea Mistress, who won the Maribyrnong Trial and the Debutante Stakes; Revinach, who won two races at Caulfield; Morshada, who won seven races in all at different courses; and Rhytana, who won at Moonee Valley.

These are only a few of the many horses Manny has owned, and their records give some idea of the successes he has enjoyed during his long career.

First married at the age of 30, Manny has three children, two boys and a girl. Syd., his eldest, is following in Manny's footsteps, and is at present a bookmaker in Melbourne. Jack, his other boy, is a jeweller, and Zelda, his only daughter, is now happily married.

Manny now lives quietly at his home in Rose Bay with his second wife, "Freddie," who is a favourite with all who meet her.

Although an excellent Australian Rules footballer in his time—he came second in the Victorian Combined Schools' distance kicking competition in his young days—and also a good golfer, Manny has now given up all active sport, and concentrates on his only two hobbies, cards and racing.

New Zealand Above All This Spring

Great form of Sky High at Flemington

By C. J. Graves, of "The Daily Telegraph"

Except for the unpredictable defeat of Tulloch in the Melbourne Cup, the Victorian Racing Club's Spring Meeting reached the highest traditions of Australian racing.

The Derby, the £25,750 Melbourne Cup, and £10,000 Tattersall's Memorial attracted the best horses in the Southern Hemisphere, and provided thrilling contests.

Sydney colt Sky High gained a surprise 12/1 victory in the Derby, New Zealander Hi Jinx brought a 50/1 win in the Melbourne Cup, and Western Australia won the Memorial at 15/1 with Aquanita.

Overtone of the meeting was the almost complete supremacy of horses from other States and New Zealand in these principal races, and also the whole of the Spring Carnival in Sydney and Melbourne.

For New Zealand, Ma Cherie won the Epsom at Randwick and Ilumquh the Caulfield Cup, while the Melbourne Cup place-getters, Hi Jinx, Howsie and Ilumquh, all upheld the dominance of New Zealand stayers.

Howsie and Ilumquh were among the "should-have-won" the Cup category, but for checks at vital stages—Howsie when going for a run at the straight entrance, and Ilumquh at a more critical stage about a few yards over a furlong from the winning post.

The official verdict, which gave Hi Jinx success by half a neck from Howsie, who was a head clear of Ilumquh, confirms the view that with the greater luck of the race either could have won. Hi Jinx, a mare, came down the outside, cutting off these rivals. This clear stroke of genius by her jockey, W. A. Smith, gave her victory over superior horses.

Smith, by the way, is a tiny but matured lightweight, a native of Victoria who settled in New Zealand for two years and was chosen for the Hi Jinx mount, although he hadn't been booked for the ride before leaving New Zealand.

He is a smart kid whose eyes glisten with high intelligence, and a bright future for him is predicted, whether he goes back to New Zealand or settles in home State Victoria.

Tulloch was one of the first out of the barrier at Cup start, but quickly fell back to fifth last. He still had only five horses behind him in a field of 31 when they came round the crucial five furlongs turn. He was 17th round the home turn, with naturally, in such crowded company, no hope unless he flew over the top of all these rivals.

He did well to finish seventh with a characteristic burst of speed that came too late.

His five-lengths supremacy in the C. B. Fisher Plate four days later convinced many critics who had expressed the view that his Cup form was untrue.

Highlight of the carnival was the success in the Derby by Sky High, followed by his close second in the £10,000 Adams Memorial mile, to Aquanita, after heading off the Adelaide speedster, Mardene. Carrying 8.2, or 4 lb. more than weight-for-age, it was a fine performance, and a feather in the cap of Club member Jack Green, his trainer, to go so close to a big double.

Sky High's form had been discounted because of failure in the Rosehill Guineas to Wenona Girl and Persian Lyric in the A.J.C. Derby, but Jack proclaimed him fitter and a better stayer before the Victoria Derby, and his opinion was justified by a three-quarters of a length win from Persian Lyric. After such an exacting performance it was no mean effort to come back from the 1½ miles to go so close to success in probably the best mile field we have seen in a handicap for many years.

ABOVE: Hi Jinx returns to scale after his brilliant victory in the Centenary Melbourne Cup. In the background can be seen the huge crowd which proved beyond doubt that the popularity of racing is still as great as ever.

RIGHT: The three place-getters in the richest Melbourne Cup ever hit the line with barely a neck bracketing them. Excellent riding by W. A. Smith assured ultimate victory for Hi Jinx, although only by the barest margin.

BELOW: Sky High crosses the line in the Derby to notch up a convincing 12/1 win.

ARTHUR BULL WINS TREBLE

Snooker Handicap Title to Andy McGill

Playing with sustained skill and consistent determination, Arthur Bull brilliantly took out three titles in our recent Billiards and Snooker Carnival. He won the Snooker Championship, the Billiards Championship, and the Billiards Handicap events. This was a truly fine effort, and one worthy of the highest praise, for to survive so many games against the Club's best cueists requires not only skill and concentration of the highest order, but real "championship temperament" as well.

Andy McGill put up an excellent performance to win the Snooker Handicap event, and he too displayed his patient efficiency in overcoming his opponents.

PLAY-OFF FOR THIRD AND FOURTH PLACES

J. A. WILLIAMS (52) defeated J. H. FARRAR (37)

Andy McGill's modest rather "home-spun" style accounted for many of our well-known exponents. Our apologies to popular Joe Harris. We omitted to mention him last month as a quarter-finalist. However, he made the final and got very near the money.

FINAL—FIRST FRAME

This game was undoubtedly the most exciting of the three played. Andy went to a very early lead of 26; nevertheless Joe, with some grand Snooker, was in a position to win with the brown "on," which he duly potted, together with the blue. Alas, his in-off the pink wrote finis to the frame.

SECOND FRAME

This frame was the reverse to the first game. Joe Harris potted determinedly, and ran out an easy winner (105-76).

Arthur Bull struck top form this year, and his finest break was a brilliant 93, unfinished, in his quarter-final against Bert Tonks.

FINAL

The final, however, against Andy McGill, provided the closest of finishes,

THIRD FRAME

Fortunes fluctuated back and forth, with the "Bull Ring Bhoys" right on their toes, and much high-speed whispering of a strange new figure language. Andy McGill's solid form prevailed, although Joe forced the issue to a pink-ball game, 78-92.

SEMI-FINALS

Tom Farrar and Athol Williams were by no means disgraced—Lady Luck just didn't look in their direction.

The play-off between these two experienced campaigners was a battle all the way to the black. Athol remarked after the game, "You know, a fellow dies a thousand deaths when he leaves a ball on in the Bull Ring." How true!

250-235! Arthur, no doubt, had some anxious moments. Andy played a stout innings, and was within 15 points of winning the handicap double. Nice work, Andy!

SEMI-FINALS

Roy Bryden, as the scores indicate

(250-237), went close to troubling Andy, and Ken Ranger's creditable 202 against Arthur Bull was well worth the watching.

The 1960 Grand Billiards and Snooker Tournaments created more than usual interest, and the indications are that 1961 will be even more attractive to members.

SNOOKER CHAMPIONSHIP

This month's magazine is so full of A. G. Bull and A. J. McGill that serious consideration should be given to a charge being made for the space.

FINAL

A. G. Bull (three frames) defeated K. D. McDonald (two frames).

Arthur and Ken staged a grim duel, with scores two frames all the excitement and interest was intense.

The third frame produced the best snooker. Ken had a 23 lead with one red left, and he seemed all set for a win. Arthur, however, proceeded to set seven excellent snookers, to run out a narrow winner 63-51.

In the last frame Arthur's potting the brown from a snooker with the other balls "on" ruined the only chance Ken had of winning.

BILLIARDS CHAMPIONSHIP

FINAL

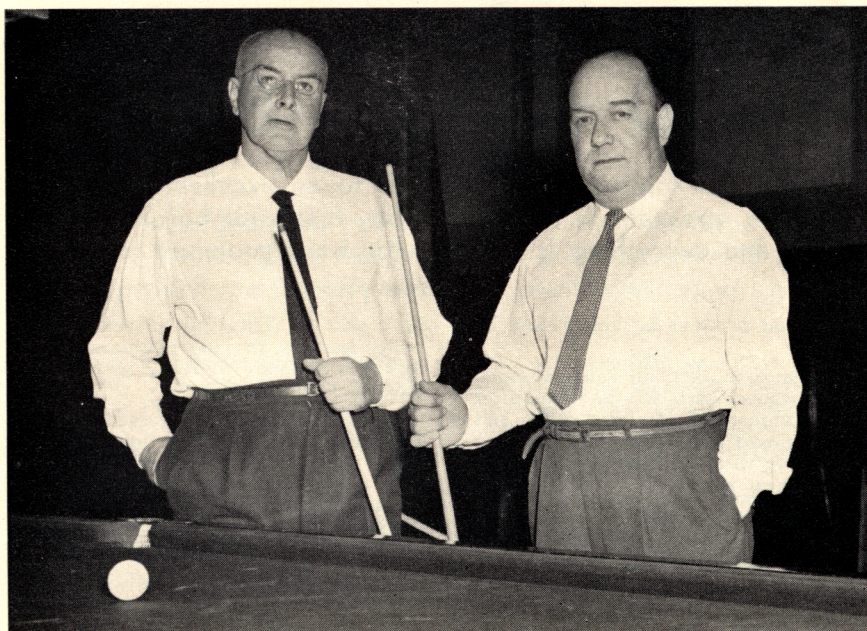

Arthur Bull's 350-104 win over Jack Chown was a sterling knock by any standards. Jack had already accounted for two excellent cueists in Eric Westhoff and Ken McDonald. By the way, the whisper is that A.G.B. is enlarging his trophy case!

SEMI-FINALS

Geo. Mousally's form? Well, ask George, he has a word for it. Ken McDonald, 63 back, was full of merit. Jack Chown's reply, however, of 40 and 50 breaks, secured victory 250-174.

Ken is Tattersall's Captain and No. 1 player in the Combined Clubs' Snooker Tournament.

We noticed the "master" didn't saddle up this year. No doubt the pigeon pair addition to the family keeps him up at nights. Yes, they are Wenona Girl and Young Brolga.

Arthur Bull, triple winner of the Club Snooker Championship, the Billiards Championship, and the Billiards Handicap, poses for this T.C.M. photograph with Andy McGill, who won the remaining event, the Club Snooker Handicap. Both played excellently, and demonstrated the skill of the seasoned campaigners they are.

Ken McDonald, runner-up in the Snooker Championship. Ken played very soundly to fully extend his opponents throughout all matches, and jokingly refers to himself as the "chopping block." Ken, incidentally, is Captain of our inter-club Snooker team.

SEASON OFF TO GOOD START

Opening on the 18th of last month, the swimming season got off to an excellent start, with enthusiasm amongst the members even more apparent, if that is possible, than ever before. Several new members were welcomed to the Club, and everything is now set for what promises to be our best season ever.

The fun in the Pool was on again on 18th October, when a good field lined up for the opening race of the 1960/1961 season over 40 yards.

There seems to be no limit to the enthusiasm of the swimming boys these days, with the old hands welcoming the new swimmers, Ron Bowerman, Jack Kay, Alan McLelland, Nick Shehadie, David Nolan and Jock Simpson.

Before Starter Sam Block gave forth with his first "Go," Club Committeeman Alf Collins presented some of the trophies won last season to Dick Dowling, Ken Mettam and Les Bear, and, on the following Thursday, Arthur McCamley presented the balance to Bob Lane and John Brice.

First heat win of the season went to Clive Gorland, and the three finals of the first race were won by Mervyn Finlay, Jack Kay, and the dead-heaters, Ron Bowerman and Jim Comans.

Most successful swimmer so far has been Bowerman, who has gained a win and a tie for first in his first two races, giving him a lead in the first monthly Point Score contest from Jack Kay and Jim Comans.

Ron swam so well in winning his second final that he was docked a couple of seconds on his handicap, a fate which also befell Jack Kay, a brother of popular Sid.

Jack was quite unperturbed about losing his handicap, and hopes to lose a few more seconds soon, particularly when he sparks up his turns.

That fine sprinter, Mervyn Finlay, was not slow in getting into form, as a final win in 20.8 saw him lose a second.

But the best heat-winning efforts have been by Norm Rogers with dashes of 20.2 and 20.5, but the longer markers have been too good for him, and he has yet to notch a major placing in finals.

New Handicapper Clive Hoole has created a real impression, as in the two races held so far there have been seven dead-heats for first. Some say the Judges are the original "The Blind Mice," but, however true or false that may be, the racing has been thrilling, with close finishes.

On the dead-heat question, Jim Comans has strung together three out of four starts, and a noteworthy feature has been his high arm recovery. Jim certainly gets a heap of fun out of the racing.

An interesting new member is well-known Nick Shehadie, who starred for many years in International Rugby Union packs. The big chap has already won a race and lost a second, and our guess is that it won't be long before he loses more.

It was good to see Club Committeeman Geoff Eastment back in the Pool after his trip abroad. Geoff looks well, and says he enjoyed every minute of his tour, and ends up with the comment that Sydney is a great place.

Another particularly nice thing was to see popular George Goldie back with us after his long and serious illness. A special address of welcome was made by Secretary Jack Dexter on 27th October, and you couldn't stop the boys from applauding the return of the very popular veteran. George even predicts that he'll be in action for the Christmas Scramble. But our advice to him is to take it easy.

Harold Herman was like a dog with two tails over the success of son Hal in winning the G.P.S. under 14 years second division 100 yards in 11 seconds, and coming second in the second division of the 220 yards. Hal represents Scots College, and looks like becoming a real star sprinter.

APOLOGY

We very much regret that, in last month's issue of T.C.M., the name of internationally famous swimmer Jon Henricks was wrongly spelt. This was a most unfortunate occurrence, and one for which we offer our apologies.

—Editor.

The "Dive-Inn" Buffet is in action in the Pool under the management of Sam Block, as was announced on a placard some wag produced on the first day the new and attractive snack bar was opened. It is even said that one unsuspecting member ordered the "Special Gestapo Lunch" advertised on the placard.

A letter has just arrived from U.S.A. from Bonnie Henricks, champion Jon's bride, who was present at the Swimming Club's Dinner Dance on the day they arrived in Sydney from Rome.

She thanks everybody for making her stay in Sydney so pleasant, or, as she says, so special. She goes on: "How I loved our wonderful evening at Tattersall's Club. It was exciting to share in the enthusiasm of the swimming group. The spirit of the relay race was truly infectious. What a great organisation to be a part of. The Club played such an important part in Jon's swimming career that I was happy to relive some of the memories with him."

Well, members, don't forget that the Swimming Club is in action with the heats of a handicap every Tuesday at 1.15 p.m. sharp, finals being held on the succeeding Thursday.

New members will be very welcome, and handicaps, based on time trials, will be adjusted to meet the ability of every swimmer. You will certainly enjoy these lunch-hour activities.

CLUB VICTORY OVER WAVERLEY

This month saw us come up with one of our best victories ever when we beat Waverley convincingly. We also have had good success in the Ashfield Trophy and, though the competition has been suspended temporarily until the greens open again, we are virtually assured a place among the qualifiers.

The outstanding event in the Bowling Section was our annual meeting with Waverley at Double Bay on October 13. Owing to lack of green space, only eight teams of four a side could contest this event.

Full marks go to Selector Jack Pick in getting together what was undoubtedly our strongest combination of all time. Our winning margin of 24 was only brought about by the team led by Lance Williams, which won by 39 to 15.

A well-balanced team led by Alex Buckle, second Issie Silk, third Dr. Len Greenberg, and capably skippered by Lance Solomon, makes this combination a certainty for future selection for all big occasions.

Selector Pick must make Lance a skipper, for no doubt he is seen at his best in this position. His knowledge of the head plus his fast drive are a great asset to any team.

The following are the results:—

	Tattersall's	Waverley
A. Buckle, I. Silk, Dr. L. Greenberg, L. Williams	39
— Foster, G. Rowles, E. Nettheim, K. Campbell		15
L. Moss, V. Kirby, C. Cohen, S. Peters	16
L. Wetter, P. Woolcock, J. Hand, L. Fingleton		28
F. Empson, A. Gibson, V. Richards, J. Weymark	28
J. Onus, L. Johnson, G. McCausland, A. Cummings		16
N. Hammond, H. Joseph, J. Neil, H. Hill	25
A. Adams, N. Drewett, F. Watt, R. Lindsay		18
E. Thorn, E. A. Davis, Mel Watson, C. Emanuel	22

C. Rose, J. Harris, Ken Williams, B. Larkin	24
F. Sloane, T. Jackson, W. Pope, K. Martin		19
	187	163

At the October 6th match, C. Rose, G. H. Levey, N. Hough and Ken Ranger came out trophy winners.

On October 19th there was no bowls, owing to Double Bay Master Pairs occupying all the green space.

October 26th trophy winners were F. Empson, Bert Levey, and N. Hough. This day also saw the return to bowls of Frank Geddes and new members B. Dimond and G. Fleming. We also had a good roll-up of 36 members.

Visitors for the month were Lance Holm, of Cootamundra, a guest of Lance Williams, Bob Plasto, a guest of Alf Butler, H. Zines and L. Markson, guests of Ralph Corrick, and Len Johnson, a guest of Dr. Basil Williams.

ASHFIELD TROPHY

Tattersall's are in the semi-finals of the Ashfield Trophy, as they are running second in the qualifiers. The competition has been put back till the greens open again, but, as there is only one match to play, Tattersall's are sure to qualify.

It's good to see Sam Peters, who is a Vice-President of the N.S.W. Royal Bowling Association, bowling again with the Tattersall's boys.

We also extend a welcome at the return of Henry Joseph and Ralph Corrick. It is rumoured that we only have them while their own greens are closed, but no doubt their good form with Tattersall's will keep them with us.

Dr. B. Dimond will no doubt add strength to our already strong bowling team. He has just won the major singles of his own Club, Bellevue Hill.

Harold Hill is once again selected for State honours in Adelaide this month.

Bert Levey is still turning a deaf ear to No. 1 Pennants for Double Bay.

Vince Kirby is still a regular, and a great help, both with his bringing and selection of trophies.

Russ Bailey is back bowling again after a minor operation and a trip overseas.

Charlie Cohen, ever famous for his "Don't go near the head shot when there is danger," is still rolling them up with the boys.

Col Rose is more energetic than ever with his Bowls Secretary job for Double Bay, and doing a good job both for Double Bay and Tattersall's.

Noel Hammond and Bill Munro are looking forward to the return of Ron Relton from overseas to challenge all comers with their strong triples team.

Lew Moss still never misses a day. He certainly enjoys his days with the Bowling Section.

President Gordon is walking on air with the successful bowling days and big attendances.

BOWLER OF THE MONTH

This is Lance (Bricky) Williams, who skippered a rink against Waverley on October 13, winning by a margin of 24 shots. As we only beat Waverley by 24 shots on the aggregate, it was his team's outstanding margin that won the day for our Club.

CLUB CHAMPIONSHIPS UNDER WAY

During last month the Club Championships got off to a good start, and the "Winooka" Trophy progressed with some interesting matches being played in the bottom half. Unfortunately, no "B" Grade matches were played in the Championship, but these are scheduled for early dates, and should be soon under way.

The Club Championship was off to a flying start. Result of matches completed are as follows:—

"A" GRADE (CLUB CHAMPION)

"C" GRADE

Ron Spencer defeated Tom Kennedy 29/27, 21/16; Jim Comans defeated Stan Heaton 21/3, 21/8; Trevor Barrell defeated Bruce Cameron 21/17, 21/18; Jim Comans defeated Ron Bowerman 10/21, 21/16, 21/16.

"B" GRADE

No matches completed.

George McGilvray had to make a trip to the U.S.A., and arranged to play two matches before he left, and what matches they were! The games against Fred Harvie and Viv Thicknesse were "beauties," and George had to bring all his skill to the fore to survive. Fred Harvie refused to be beaten, and to take the second set 21/17 was a grand effort. In the final set, with the scores at about 12-all, George turned to the spectators and said, "What have I got to do to beat this chap? Can anyone advise me?" However, he went on to win, but Fred gave him a mighty shock.

Against Viv Thicknesse he lost the opening set, but rallied to take the next two.

Robert Lipman had a tough battle to defeat "Bill" Sellen. In each set the scores see-sawed until one or the other made a break through and held it to the finish.

The wins by Ralph Davies and Bruce Partridge were as expected. Eric Thomson did well to take the first set to an advantage score of 23/21. However, Ralph had a very comfortable win. This also applies to Bruce Partridge. He was much too good for Bill Hannan.

The match between Eddie Davis and Norm Rogers was a tough one. Eddie won 21/17, 19/21, 21/17. These two friends always stage a good effort, and it was a good performance by Eddie to win, and a great effort by Norm, who was a very gallant loser.

The "C" Graders have had some grand matches. Jim Comans was much too strong for Stan Heaton. However, against Ron Bowerman he had a very tough match. Ron won the first set easily. Jimmie pulled his game together and won the second set. In the third set it was "anybody's" game. Ron tired at the critical moment, and made a couple of bad serves which gave Jim the advantage and the match.

Ron Spencer and Tom Kennedy had a ding-dong match. Ron is a very strong contender for this title. However, Tom has been doing some secret gallops with Eddie Davis and, as a result, the first set went to 29/27 before Ron won, and, in the second set, Ron had to go to 21/16 to clinch the match. Tom is an improver who is "one to watch."

Trevor Barrell and Bruce Cameron had a close match. Trevor won in straight sets, 21/17, 21/18. Bruce, for his first competition, showed very good form.

Trevor is an old hand in "C" Grade, and tough to beat. He had to do his very best to win.

The "B" Graders did not play any matches, but they are all getting ready for the fray.

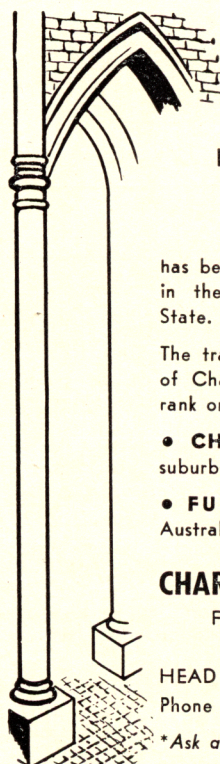

THE "WINOOKA" TROPHY

The competition progressed another step. As I reported last month, Leigh Bowes is winner of the Top Half. In the Bottom Half, the third round was completed as follows:—

Bill Hannan eliminated Fred Harvie 41/33; Robert Lipman eliminated Sid Kay 41/38; Andy McGill eliminated George McGilvray W.O.; Eddie Davis eliminated John Brice, W.O.

The draw for the fourth round was made immediately, and the remaining competitors in the Bottom Half are:—

Eddie Davis v. Bill Hannan, Andy McGill v. Robert Lipman.
